

Year One

Dear Parents and Carers,

Thank you for coming to the parent consultations this week; it was lovely to have the opportunity to talk to you about your children's progress.

English

In English this week we have begun a new book called The Lonely Beast. The children thought of some superb adjectives to describe what they could see on the front cover. The children created a character profile of the beast's hobbies where we focused on using -ing verbs. In drama, the children thought of questions before interviewing the beast. We created a Lonely Hearts advert to help find the beast some friends.

Maths

In Math's this week we have been learning about Length and Height. We have been encouraging the children to use the sentence stems "_____ is taller than/shorter than/longer than/smaller than/equal to _____". The children have been measuring using standard measures (Ruler in cm) and non-standard measures such as cubes and hands. We measured the length of our feet in cubes and compared it to our partners.

Discussions at home: Who is the tallest/smallest in your family? Compare hand and feet sizes. What in your house is taller/smaller than you?

Topic

In science this week we have drawn spring flowers and labelled them. How many parts of the flower can you name?
